

had several flattering applications for her services as an instructor in art.

Miss May Merrill, who is studying in Mrs. Cory's School of Design in New York, is progressing rapidly in her work. She has sent home several specimens of her handiwork, amongst them designs in silk that were used in Mrs. McCune's lecture at the University lately, and designs in wall paper and linoleum which Mrs. Alice Horn used for illustration in her recent lecture at the same place.

The young women of Utah have every reason to be proud of the record they have achieved in art abroad and at home. All who have studied abroad have done work that has merited the praise of the ablest instructors in their different lines of study and work. Miss Teasdale's work has been admitted both to the French salon and the Department of Art in the Great Paris Exposition. Miss Hartwell has also been admitted to the French salon and other lady Utah art students have made a record that is highly creditable to the State.

TEACHING A CHILD PERSISTENCE

Even Mere Babies Can be Encouraged in the Habit of Trying Again.

"Few little children, of course, voluntarily set themselves to overcome difficulties, yet more would do so if parents and nurses were not in the habit of catering to their flightiness characteristic of all young things, which leads them to follow up whatever momentarily attracts their attention," is the position taken by Florence Hull Winburn writing of "Child-Life in the Home" in the March Woman's Home Companion. "The capacity to dwell for a long time upon one thought involves both intensity of desire and innate ambition to reach right results. I have seen this struggle for perfection in an infant form show itself in a little child but eighteen months old. And how sincerely I respected that little one. He was sitting in his mother's lap beside the library-table one evening, when in an idle mood she took up a penny and set it on the head of a small gilt image three or four inches high and with a head scarcely larger than the coin. Seeing that the baby watched her, she said playfully, 'Baby can't do that!' The little one's brown eyes sparkled with a look that seemed to say, 'Oh, can't I?' And taking the penny in his fingers he essayed to balance it as she had done. It fell. Oh! said baby, quietly, and picking it up tried again, with the same result. Without the least sign of discouragement or impatience the little thing tried over and over again for a score of times, until at last succeeded in balancing the coin on the head of the image. 'The brave baby!' We gave him a round of applause, and he looked for one to the other of us with a curious little glance of satisfaction. The next day he could not be prevailed upon to undertake the same feat again. Once having demonstrated that he could do it he lost his interest. Here was a tiny hero in want of difficulties to conquer; an infant Newton, excelling in the ability to concentrate his whole mind upon a single object so long as it was necessary for that object to engross his attention."

The Household.

Unbleached Canton flannel makes good dish cloths.

It is well to keep lamps about two-thirds full of oil. Clothes lines are made much more durable by boiling for ten minutes before they are used.

When a fire is nearly out it may easily be induced to burn up brightly by sprinkling a little sugar on it.

A little cold tea mixed with warm water and applied with a soft woolen cloth will make stained woodwork look bright and fresh.

A few drops of oil of lavender in a silver bowl or ornamental dish of some kind, half filled with very hot water, and set in the dining room just before dinner is served, gives a delightful and intangible freshness to the atmosphere of the apartment. Hostesses often put a small vessel in the parlor and dressing rooms when arranging the house for a festivity. The suggestion is especially valuable to the hostess in a small apartment, which sometimes in the bustle of preparation becomes stuffy.

To remove scratches and bruises from furniture, rub them gently with a fresh walnut, butternut or hickory nut kernel and they will disappear as if by magic.

The most recent and approved method of making mustard plaster is to mix one teaspoonful of mustard with three of cornmeal, using just sufficient water to make the paste of the right consistency. It is simple, mild, efficacious and the materials for it likely to be within easy reach.

Four boiling water over raisins before seeding them. It's easier. Burlap when stained makes an artistic floor covering.

A vanilla bean kept in the sugar-box imparts a delicious flavor to the sugar. The French do this.

When a decanter or water-bottle becomes so badly discolored that shot or fine coal will not cleanse them, and with the present condition of water this is likely to happen, fill them with finely-chopped potato paring. Cork tightly and let them remain for three days. By that time the parings will have fermented and if the vessel is emptied and rinsed out with warm, clear water, the stains will be found to have quite disappeared.

PROSPECTUS.

DESERET NEWS.

MOTTO—"TRUTH AND LIBERTY."

We propose to publish a small weekly sheet, as large as our local circumstances will permit, to be called "Deseret News," designed originally to record the passing events of our State, and in connexion, refer to the arts and sciences, embracing general education, medicine, law, divinity, domestic and political economy, and every thing that may fall under our observation, which may tend to promote the best interest, welfare, pleasure and amusement of our fellow citizens.

We hold ourselves responsible to the highest Court of truth for our intentions, and the highest Court of equity for our execution. When we speak, we shall speak freely, without regard to men or party, and when, like other men, we err, let him who has his eyes open, correct us in meekness, and he shall receive a disciple's reward.

We shall ever take pleasure in communicating foreign news as we have opportunity; in receiving communications from our friends at home and abroad; and solicit ornaments for the "News" from our poets and poetesses.

The first number may be expected as early in June as subscriptions will warrant—waiting the action of 300 subscribers.

Emigrants began to arrive from the States, bound for the gold regions, on the 27th of May, 1850, and have continued to arrive and depart almost daily ever since. The following, who have passed on, paid their fare for a copy of our paper to be directed to their friends.
